Introduction and Contribution to Wikipedia

a) Description about Wikipedia and its features.

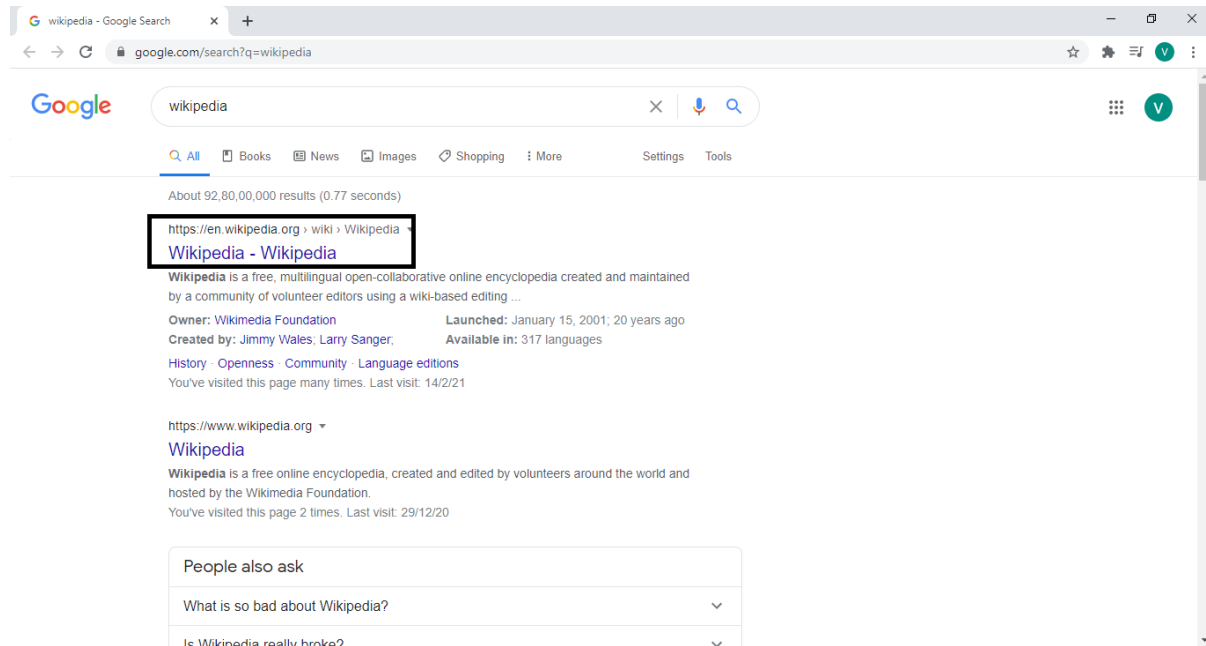

Wikipedia was launched on January 15, 2001, by Jimmy Wales and Larry Sanger. Wikipedia has been criticized for its uneven accuracy and for exhibiting systemic bias, including gender bias, with the majority of editors being male. Wikipedia's mobile interface uses descriptions to augment searches. Wikipedia is a free, open content online encyclopaedia created through the collaborative effort of a community of users known as Wikipedians. Anyone registered on the site can create an article for publication; registration is not required to edit articles. Wikipedia was the only non-commercial site of the top ten. Wikipedia is increasingly used by people in the academic community, from freshman students to distinguished professorship, as an easily accessible tertiary source for information about anything and everything, and as a quick "ready reference", to get a sense of a concept or idea.

Special Features of Wikipedia are:-

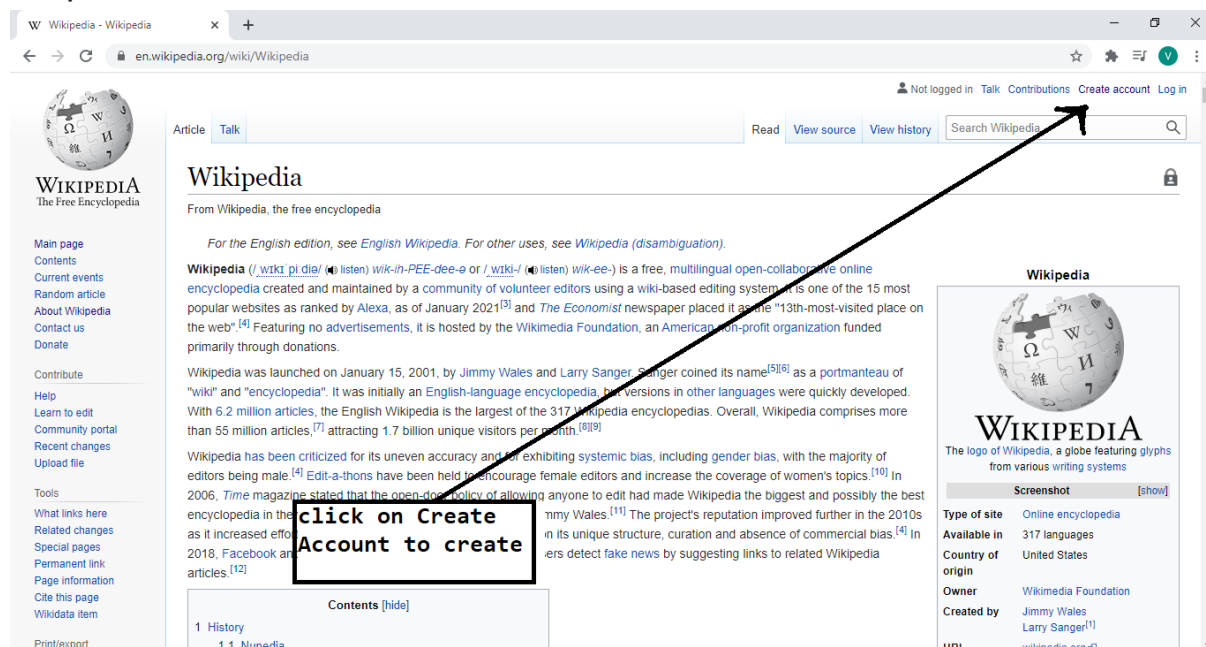

- Wikipedia's most known and controversial feature is its editing tool.
- Celebrity Voice Recordings: - Recently, Wikipedia has been experimenting with celebrities' voice recordings, so people can hear what the person sounds like.
- Distinctive feature, the most basic unit of structure that can be analysed by phonetics and phonology.
- The feature of film collaboration between filmmakers Michel Audre and Andrew Neel.
- Feature story, a piece of journalistic writing that covers a selected issue in-depth.
- Feature (computer vision), could be an edge, corner or blob.
- Wikipedia games: - If you get bored reading Wikipedia, then you can play some Wikipedia games.

Wikipedia (/ˈwɪkɪˈpiːdiə/ listen) wik-ih-PEE-dee-ə or /ˈwɪkiːdiə/ listen) wik-EE is a free, multilingual open-collaborative online encyclopedia created and maintained by a community of volunteer editors using a wiki-based editing system. It is one of the 15 most popular websites as ranked by Alexa, as of January 2021^[3] and The Economist newspaper placed it as the "13th-most-visited place on the web".^[4] Featuring no advertisements, it is hosted by the Wikimedia Foundation, an American non-profit organization funded primarily through donations.

Wikipedia was launched on January 15, 2001, by Jimmy Wales and Larry Sanger. Sanger coined its name^{[5][6]} as a portmanteau of "wiki" and "encyclopedia". It was initially an English-language encyclopedia, but versions in other languages were quickly developed. With 6.2 million articles, the English Wikipedia is the largest of the 317 Wikipedia encyclopedias. Overall, Wikipedia comprises more than 55 million articles,^[7] attracting 1.7 billion unique visitors per month.^{[8][9]}

Wikipedia has been criticized for its uneven accuracy and for exhibiting systemic bias, including gender bias, with the majority of editors being male.^[4] Edit-a-thons have been held to encourage female editors and increase the coverage of women's topics.^[10] In 2006, Time magazine named it one of the 100 most influential people of the year, and it was named the most influential encyclopedia by Time magazine.^[11] The project's reputation improved further in the 2010s as it increased its focus on accuracy, and its unique structure, curation and absence of commercial bias.^[4] In 2018, Facebook and YouTube announced that they would help users detect fake news by suggesting links to related Wikipedia articles.^[12]
